TOTAL IN EXCESS

Reappraisal of Property

Lisbon, Aug. 24.—Your average citizen usually knows the condition of his personal finances so intimately that, should he suddenly need a loan at his bank, he could offhand give the extent of his worth, his income for the next year and the amount of money he owed.

But, as a taxpayer, could he tell as much of the school district, township, village, city or county in which he lives?

The answer, probably, is that he could not. That is largely because he immerses himself in his personal affairs to the exclusion of his interest in government.

A change in his attitude is already discernible, however. But it will need to be something more comprehensive than mere opposition to further taxes; it will need to be a change in the way he looks at the government.

Up To Ears In Debt

They are up to their ears in debt, and that debt is attributable to no one set of persons but has simply piled up through the years until now all the revenue obtainable cannot save the situation.

What is to be done?

Your average citizen, were he faced by the same situation in his personal affairs, probably would do one of at least three things: Strive to borrow to tide himself over; cut down his expenses; or, in some herculean way try to expand his income.

In order to avert financial ruin, his school district, township, village and even county will have to choose from among these alternatives, too.

In most cases, however, borrowing is out of the question; the districts are already bonded to their legal limit. They have already pared expenses to the bone. Therefore, the third and last of the loopholes appears to offer the only tangible solution. But how to raise the revenues?

Some say—re-appraise all realty.

There is nothing new in this suggestion. It has been broached repeatedly in Columbiana county. East Liverpool has held meetings at which the county commissioners were urged to take this step.

Expect Re-appraisal

However, re-appraisal meets opposition in the rural sections. They argue that it will make the increased assessments on farms too steep. City dwellers, however, fear what the county auditor's office affirms—that re-appraisal will work a heavier burden on urban property than on rural—this because values have risen more in and about cities, whereas the tax duplicate valuation of rural property has always been fairly accurately known.

However opinions may vary, it is considered likely that early next year the county commissioners will ask the state to permit a re-appraisal, and that, when and if it is granted, will undertake the first revision of realty valuations in this county attempted in many years.

Such a general revision proponents point out, will work no hardship on anyone and will bring in a flood of ad-

BOIL CITY WATER IS ADVICE ISSUED BY HEALTH CHIEF

Analysis Shows Bacteria;
Prospect Hill Well
Is Shut Off.

"Better boil water until further notice," is the warning issued Friday by Health Commissioner T. T. Church as a result of the latest analysis of the city water.

At the same time Service Director J. B. Bristol announced that the new Prospect Hill well was shut off Thursday night. The chlorine treatment has been increased and health officials will have the water tested daily.

Dr. Church's action in advising that city water be boiled is based on the report of the water analysis submitted Thursday. This shows bacteria in the basin and below Broadway, and some at the City hall and at the corner of Seventh st. and Ellsworth ave., where tests have been made.

Thirty-five per cent gas also was discovered in the samples taken from lower Broadway.

THOMAS PIPER, 83, EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Thomas Piper, 83, died at his residence in Columbiana Thursday night, his death coming suddenly and unexpectedly. One of the oldest residents in the section, Mr. Piper was a veteran of the Civil war and a widely known farmer.

His wife, Mary Piper, died a number of years ago and recently Mr. Piper had resided with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shotts. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Funeral service will be held at the home at 3 p. m. Saturday, Rev. Rupert having charge. Burial in the Columbiana cemetery.

Cross-Country Air Mail Service Will Be Made Permanent

Washington, Aug. 24.—Regular trans-continental airplane mail service, operated at nights as well as during the day, is assured. Postmaster General New declared today as a result of the successful trial flights during the last few days.

Mr. New said the night mail flying tests had been a "great success" and were conclusive proof that a regular service can be maintained. He made no prediction, however, as to the date such a service would be inaugurated.

On the recommendation of Second Assistant Postmaster General Henderson, now in Omaha, Mr. New said he had ordered the tests curtailed to four days. Flights which were to have started Saturday, he added, had been cancelled to give the small force of aviators, who, he said, have been under terrific strain, an opportunity to rest.

Five Men Indicted For Fraud In Sale Of Army Supplies

New York, Aug. 24.—Five men, including Col. Laurence M. Purcell, former chief of the surplus property division of the United States army, were indicted today charged with defrauding the government out of about $2,000,000 through the sale of certain surplus war supplies to private concerns.

The merchandise involved, the indictment stated, was 600,000 yards of denim, 239,104 yards of duck, 708,022 yards of osanbury grey and 1,656,065 yards of sheeting.

Freewill Offering Gives $75 To Band

An evidence that Salem people appreciate Quaker City band, the principal musical aggregation of the city, is that when a freewill offering was taken at the Redpath chautauqua tent Thursday evening the band's treasury was increased by $75.

The freewill offerings were secured at this session for the return of the chautauqua next year.

RELIEF PROGRAM TO BE EXTENDED

Place Of Church In Reform
Outlined At Yearly Meeting Session.

Annual reports and inspirational addresses continue to be the order of the day Thursday at the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends being held at Damascus.

The American Friends Service Committee, a continuation of the civilian branch of the Red Cross, organized early in the World war and now functioning in reconstruction and relief work, was represented at the meeting by Wilbur K. Thomas of Philadelphia.

Secretary Thomas having recently completed an extended tour through France, Germany, Austria, Poland and Russia, gave to a large audience first hand information of conditions in Europe.

It was the opinion of the speaker that the greatest poverty in the countries visited is in Germany. A German worth $2,000,000 before the war would have an equity today of only one dollar, the mark now being quoted at eight million to the dollar.

France's Chances Slim

The probability of France making good in the collection of reparations by occupying the Ruhr is but one-eighth what it was when the occupation began, he declared.

The 70 field workers under the Friends service committee have been welcomed into all the countries mentioned. They have been recognized as being actuated by purely Christian and humanitarian motives, Thomas said.

"The use made of the Quakers services is shown in the fact that while in one year $250,000 was provided by them, four and one half million dollars were given from outside sources.

"The extent of the work is represented in the fact that at one time one million ten thousand children of our former enemy were being fed daily.

"The Quakers have always been exponents of peace and good will. Their method of expressing what they believe the Christ attitude has taken this concrete form.

Will Extend Program

"Just now the service committee is preparing, upon special request to carry out a program that will mean the expenditure of between thirty and forty million dollars."

Mr. Thomas presents a brighter prospect for Russia than one is accustomed to hear. Much of the suffering attributed to the policies of government are actually caused by drought, he said. The wave of revolt against the Russian church is a consequence of the effort to separate church and state rather than a hatred for the religious order.

The 85 to 90 per cent illiteracy of the adult Russian population is due to their social and religious order as an external cause rather than to any lack of mental capacity, according to the speaker.

Hershel O. Folger of Lynn, Mass., in presenting the work of Friends among the American Indians proved a most interesting speaker.

Schools and mission churches are still maintained for the help of those who were termed the actual "First Families" of the land. Traditions of (Continued on sixth page.)

MRS. KATE WIGGINS, AUTHOR, IS DEAD

Death Comes To American Who Wrote "Rebecca Of Sunnybrook Farm."

London, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin, well known American writer, died in a private hospital at Harrow, said a dispatch from that place this afternoon. She was in ill health upon her arrival in England several months ago.

Mrs. Wiggins was 66 years old. Her best known book was "Rebecca Of Sunnybrook Farm."

Mrs. Wiggins' body will be sent to the United States for burial. The authoress was a native of Maine. Before taking up writing she was interested in kindergarten teaching and visited California to study this branch of education. She taught for about a year in Santa Barbara college, later establishing a kindergarten in San Francisco.

She was married in 1880 to Samuel B. Wiggins, a San Francisco lawyer. Eight years later the couple moved to New York. Mrs. Wiggins' first story appeared in 1878.

Assistant Librarian Will Enter College

Miss Frances Stratton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stratton, East Seventh st., will enter Earlham college, at Richmond, Ind., on Sept. 10.

Miss Stratton has resigned her position as assistant librarian at the Salem Public Library effective Sept. 3.

Others who will attend this college from this section are Dorothy Gilbert, Mary Ida Winder, and Lawrence Rogers, Winona.

SPECIAL OFFICERS AT KLAN MEETING

But No Disturbance Marks
Gathering At Leetonia
Thursday Night.

Deputy Sheriffs Frank Balentine, George Wright, David Ellis and Chief Leighton, of Lisbon, who were called upon to help maintain order at the Ku Klux Klan meeting held near the eastern line of the village of Leetonia Thursday night, stated that no disturbances of any kind marked the meeting or the passage through the town of the Klansmen who gathered at the meeting.

Marshal Sullivan of Leetonia, assisted by a large number of special police officers, directed the traffic so that there was no congestion. The Lisbon officers, convinced that there would be no need for their services, returned home after the meeting was under way.

Hurled Into Wheel, Body Badly Mangled

Steubenville, Aug. 24.—C. N. Leaver, 45, of Brilliant, O., met a horrible death today at the Steubenville plant of the Weirton Steel company when he was caught in a belt and hurled into a fly wheel. Practically every bone in his body was broken, physicians say. Leaver was assisting city firemen to extinguish a threatening blaze when he stepped on a belt.

Charges Action Is Result Of Woman Changing Mind

Lisbon, Aug. 24.—According to the answer filed in a suit on notes aggregating $43.50 brought by the defendant stated that the action Earl Stauffer of Brooklyn, N. Y., Lulu C. Long of Columbiana against was the result of the time honored custom of women changing their minds.

He admits the debt owed Miss Long and states that the loans were made to assist him through law school. He further states that he was delayed in completing the course by service in the World war and that death in his family further hindered his paying of the obligation.

Stauffer says he had been engaged to marry the plaintiff but for some reason she changed her mind and since the engagement was broken she has not ceased to embarrass and annoy him by demands for the money.

He will shortly be in a position to pay the obligation to Miss Long, Stauffer says. Her action in attaching certain property owned by his father at Columbiana was made as an attempt to annoy and distress him, he charges, and therefore he asks that the action be dismissed.

The pleadings set up in the defendant's answer are unusual and unique from a legal standpoint.

Continue Watkins Case Another Day

Fifty Witnesses Sworn To Testify In Chief Of Police's Trial.

TO DELAY TRIAL OF MAYOR REESE

Head Of Christ's Mission
Tells Governor About
Vice Conditions.

Columbus, Aug. 24.—Gov. Donahey today announced that the trial of Chief of Police James Watkins of Youngstown, accused of failing to enforce dry laws and anti-gambling and anti-vice laws, will in all probability be continued through Saturday, because of the many witnesses scheduled to be heard. It is expected more than 50 witnesses will be sworn.

The hearing by the governor concerning similar charges preferred against Mayor William G. Reese of Youngstown will start at 1 p. m. Monday, instead of this afternoon, as previously arranged, the governor stated.

Ray G. Hagstrom, superintendent of Christ's mission, Youngstown, was the first witness called when the Watkins hearing was resumed today. Testifying on behalf of the prosecution, Hagstrom stated that in 1917 vice and crime were rampant in Youngstown.

About four months ago Hagstrom asserted he reported an alleged speakeasy to a patrolman but, he declared, the officer said that it was the vice squad's duty to look after it.

Last Sunday he said he saw ten men "shooting crap" in broad daylight out in Doud's alley. He said he told the police department about it but said he didn't know of anything being done about it.

"Things are a little better since the suspension of Mayor Reese, a month ago," Hagstrom said. He told Gov. Donahey today he thought Doud's alley and the district could be cleaned up now if the chief of police would issue an edict that meant business.

Hagstrom admitted a cross examination that he never reported to the chief or sent anyone to him concerning these matters. Attorneys for Watkins tried to draw Hagstrom out in his effort to show that Youngstown was no worse than any other city of similar size, possessing a large foreign population.

Deputy State Probation Commissioner Frank Evans caused a ripple among the spectators when on cross examination he said that liquor violators were sometimes taken before officials other than police court magistrates when being broke and of needing some money.

"Sometimes we change justices to help them out," he testified as witness for the prosecution.

Commissioner Evans said that con-

Excitement Prevails About Klan Headquarters In Steubenville.

Steubenville, Aug. 24.—Considerable excitement prevailed about the Ku Klux Klan headquarters here today following the receipt of an alleged "blackhand letter." The communication was mailed at Pittsburgh and reads as follows:

"K. K. Headquarters, Steubenville, Ohio.

"Gentlemen: As we, members of a well known order, having its head in Italy and many members here, have proof that your K. K. crazy order is against us and every progress, we feel the necessity to advise you that every member that will be discovered as belonging to your order shall receive our challenge. You want war. We are ready. We keep you posted."

At the bottom of the letter is a crudely drawn figure of a hand.

The letter was turned over to authorities, although Klan officials stated that they did not take it seriously.

Final Chautauqua Programs Will Be Best Of The Week

Children To Present Program Outlining Results Of The Week; Eminent Speakers And Top-notch Music Listed.

The Chautauqua programs for Saturday afternoon and evening will rate among the best of the entire season.

For the first part of the program Saturday afternoon the Junior Town Chautauqua organization will present a program outlining the results of the week.

Miss Mary Morgan, Junior supervisor, will have charge of this program which will include the introduction of the Junior Town officials, dances, specialty features and stunts by the boys.

Children all decided to bring flowers for the service commissioners and mayor to take to the hospital for the sick children.

The program in the afternoon will open with a short concert by the National Male quartet. The Redpath Chautauqua organization as the most versatile group of real artists on their list. Their programs will include ensemble and solo numbers in addition to character make-up features by Charles Cox.

Following the musical program Dr. Frank Loveland, one of the most eminent pulpit orators of the chautauqua platform, will lecture on the subject of "The Tragedy of Ignorance." This discussion reveals some startling facts and without trespassing on decency, Dr. Loveland, voices a warning against blood taint, which he says, is so prevalent throughout the civilized world.

The closing program Saturday evening is guaranteed as the best ever heard from a chautauqua program. All season the National Male quartet have been rated as 100 per cent plus, and their program here will be a classic. Charles Cox, one of the most topnotchers in the platform, will make up impersonations of Harry Lauder, and of the late Bert Williams are most realistic.

COOLIDGE'S HOPES OF AVERTING COAL STRIKE UNSHAKEN

However Plans Are Made To Distribute Substitutes
For Hard Coal.

READY TO ASSURE SUPPLY OF FUEL

Feels Next Move Must And Will Develop From Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 24.—With certain union officials voicing the threat of a sympathetic walkout of bituminous miners in the event of a hard coal miners' strike Sept. 1, John Marks, vice president from District No. 2 of the central Pennsylvania soft coal region, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, resumed their conferences here today.

Lewis declined to admit that the conferences with Marks had to do with the possibility of a sympathetic strike, reiterating he and Marks were discussing "internal policies." It is known, however, that Marks expressed to Lewis the desire of the soft coal miners to aid the anthracite miners in any way in the event of a strike.

Marks admitted that should the hard coal men strike, his men would be eager to walk out in sympathy, but at the same time he pointed out that the soft coal miners have a contract with the operators which does not expire until next March.

Coolidge Still Hopeful

Washington, Aug. 24.—Despite menacing reports from Atlantic City, President Coolidge still entertains unshaken hope today that anthracite operators and miners, by voluntary resumption of wage negotiations, will avert a hard coal strike.

At the same time, however, the executive, ready for any eventualities, has perfected all plans for nationwide distribution of substitutes for hard coal.

The federal government, directly or indirectly, contemplates no immediate step to bring about peace by inviting the warring factions back to the council table.

Negotiations are being conducted by the administration to make permanent the substitute distribution organization, so that whenever a coal strike threatens in the future, the country will be assured a steady supply of fuel.

These outstanding facts constitute the administration's attitude and plans in the anthracite crisis. On these bases the administration has chartered its course in dealing with the threatened coal tieup.

Because of the belief that government interference at this moment not only would be met with failure, but would add complexity to an already perplexing situation, it was declared at the White House today that both President Coolidge and John Hays Hammond, chairman of the United States coal commission, feel the next move must, and will come from Atlantic City where the operators and miners are encamped.

BARON KATO, JAP PREMIER, IS DEAD

Baron Had Headed Japanese
Delegation To Arms Conference.

London, Aug. 24.—Baron Tomosaburo Kato, premier of Japan and former admiral in the Japanese navy, died last night said a dispatch from Tokyo today. He had been ill for some time.

Baron Kato was 64 years old. He was well known in the United States, having headed the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference.

The baron came of a family of humble circumstances. He entered the Japanese naval school and at the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war, he had risen so rapidly he was in command of a squadron.

Kato utilized his opportunity in the Russian war with brilliant results that made his name a household word in Japan. His squadron engaged and defeated a much larger Russian force in the battle of Tsushima.

In 1915, Kato became minister of marine in the Japanese government. He became premier in June, 1922, although he was incapacitated by illness much of the time since then.

ELMER REED DIES, WIFE NEAR DEATH

Salem friends were notified Friday morning of the death of Elmer Reed, 62, which occurred at the home, 14,092 Ardendale ave., Cleveland. W. S. Arbaugh went to that city Friday and will bring the body to Salem, the deceased having formerly resided here.

The message also stated that Mrs. Reed, his widow, is also at the point of death and that probably she would not live through the day.

Particulars of the death and funeral arrangements will be announced Saturday.

MANY ATTRACTED BY VICTOR'S BAND

Two Entertaining Concerts Given Thursday At Chautauqua.

Patrons of the Redpath chautauqua were given a musical treat Thursday, band day of the week's program, when Victor's band presented two highly entertaining concerts, added to which were popular and patriotic selections.

Signor Lacerenza, the director of this band, recently returned from Italy where he holds high rank musically.

That the people of Salem appreciated this opportunity was evidenced by the large attendance, the number of people attending the afternoon concert probably being the largest at any afternoon program.

Each number given was rendered in a most faultless fashion and displayed careful training.

Among the very enjoyable selections were "Rosary," "Chimes of Normandy," "Berceuse," and "American Patrol."

"Public Interest" Is Correct

THE coal conference at Atlantic City ended suddenly without either faction taking advantage of the opportunity for consideration of the "public interest," which each had said actuated it in resuming negotiations previously interrupted. The only encouragement left is in the condition attached to the adjournment that another meeting may be called should developments seem to warrant it. The government, through the coal commission, had intervened to prevent a strike of anthracite miners and it may be able to intervene again effectively. It should not allow the operators or the miners to lose sight of the importance to the public of fuel coal bins. This controversy applies directly to the anthracite mines, but it cannot continue without eventually affecting every one in a continuous territory.

Consideration for the public seems, after all, to have been perfunctory, with both factions. President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, said his organization was moved to resume negotiations "in consideration of the public interest." The operators returned to the council because they felt "that the public should be protected against the menace of a coal shortage." These concessions of "public interest," however, had not been made until after the coal commission had warned that "the public mind is beginning to be seriously alarmed."

If they were sincere in their admission that there is a "public interest" in the coal situation, and that they were moved by that consideration to make another attempt to come to an agreement, they might have applied themselves more assiduously to that accomplishment. The haste of Mr. Lewis suggests that he considers the "check-off" and a wage increase to be more important than a coal supply. This is emphasized by his apparent anxiety to rush into a strike on Sept. 1, rather than consent to arbitration suggested by the operators, who may have known before making that proposal what reception it would receive.

The public is not impressed by the various strategic movements of the factions. It does not care about the "check-off" and it knows that wages are high enough without any advance at this time. It does need coal and it demands it of those who have voluntarily undertaken to supply it.

There is very much of "public interest" in the situation. There still is opportunity for both sides to show that appreciation and recognition of it were sincerely in their hearts when it was on their tongues. If they do not do so it will be to the public interest for the coal commission to apply whatever authority congress has given to it and for the government to back it in doing so. Mr. Lewis is obsessed with the notion that now is the time for him to "swat the operators" and it is up to the government to see that he does not thereby swat the public.

ARE YOU BILIOUS?

As a student was told that there was no such word as "bilious" in the medical dictionary. That was perhaps true 20 years ago but it can be found there now, not because it is a new discovery but because usage of the word necessitated its insertion in an up-to-date dictionary.

What does it mean? Just what it did years ago. A combination of symptoms that make you feel that life is not worth living. There is the severe headache, vomiting and acute abdominal pain, and you feel "fed up" on everything and every body.

What has happened? It's hard to say, but certainly there has been an "upsetment" of your liver and bile apparatus.

This does not necessarily come from overeating. I'll admit that overeating or wrong eating is most frequently the cause.

But any exciting emotion, and severe shock, mental strain of any kind, even the strain in the eyes or poorly fitted glasses may bring on these attacks.

Sometimes our old enemy constipation simply backs things up so badly that the liver and bile are working now what's the treatment?

Well, if it only occurs once in a great while, Nature will take care of you all right. If you stop eating for a day or two. But if these attacks come at frequent intervals, consult your physician and he may be able to locate the cause.

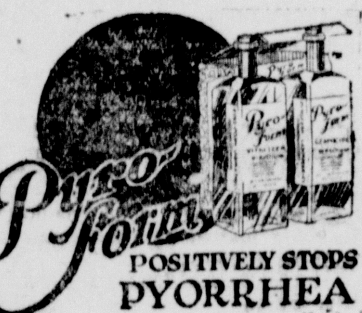

Remember the symptoms of being "fed up" should really suggest the treatment.

You are "fed up" actually and literally, so go to the other extreme. If fed up on too much or too rich food, avoid food for two days and drink plenty of water. Perhaps a dose of castor oil would help matters.

If fed up mentally, take thought on the matter and if it be caused by strain or worry, try to get control of yourself for your own and the family's sake. A good brisk walk or a change of scene for a few days will help the mental condition.

However the first thought as ever you know, is the elimination of the wastes of the body.

Ghosts Their Chief Fear.

Indian mail runners fear nothing but ghosts in the jungle, but not a year passes that does not take its heavy toll of runners in the execution of their duty. It might be a tiger, a swollen river, an avalanche in the Himalayas or a gang of robbers. The work goes on just the same; the mail goes through, whatever happens. So said Geoffrey Rothe Clarke, director general of posts and telegraphs in India, speaking before the Indian section of the British Royal Society of Arts. With the runners, Mr. Clarke stated, the mail was a fetish they would protect at all costs. For wild beasts, floods and dangers of all kinds they would not turn aside. But they would go miles out of their way, even when carrying the precious mails, to avoid an evil spirit whom they suspected of lodging in a tree. Of ghosts they are far more afraid than of the fiercest wild beasts.

OHIO STATE FAIR TO OPEN MONDAY

Premium List Of $125,000 Is Provided; Cattle From 20 States Entered.

Columbus, Aug. 24.—Ohio's seventy-third state fair, to be held Aug. 27 to Sept. 3, will have a premium list of $125,000, surpassing, it is believed by Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, any like exposition in the country. Final plans for this year's fair are being whittled into shape now by Mr. Truax and Fair Manager G. R. Lewis.

While entries are somewhat incomplete they indicate, according to Mr. Truax, that the live stock show will be the greatest ever held on the Columbus grounds. Exhibitors so far in the cattle division represent 20 states. Two thousand entries have been received for the sheep show, which set a new world's record in 1921 with 1200 animals on the grounds.

Fair products, horticultural, agricultural, etc., are all full to overflowing and spaces reserved for heavy machinery and other kinds of exhibitors have been sold.

Perhaps the most spectacular of this year's entertainment features will be the presentation each night of a pageant entitled "Citizen Birds," intended to show the value of birds to agriculture in protection from insects. The cast includes more than 1,000 young people, recruited from central Ohio and the theme of the affair was worked out by W. A. Ireland, cartoonist of the Columbus Evening Dispatch.

Several noticeable changes were made in arranging the 1922 classification. In the women's department all premiums were abolished for the canned goods, baked goods, clothing, etc., which formerly exhibited for prizes. The money thereby saved was expended in constructing a "Modern Farm House," composed of five rooms and complete in every detail, intended to show the comfort and cheerfulness the rural housewife may attain at a small cost.

In 1922, with an offering of $9,000, the fair set a new world's record in boys' and girls' club work. This year $2,500 has been added to this amount with the result that the entry list is increased one-third.

Another departure from precedence is found in the horse department. Here classes have been provided for commercial horses and mounts from any recognized police force.

August 27 has been set as the date for the cattle show. Features will be a Shorthorn show that at present has a higher total than any previous competition of this breed on the Columbus grounds; a Hereford display. Polled Shorthorn show, with entries of more than 50 per cent over last year; a milking Shorthorn exhibition and a Guernsey entry that fair officials believe will set a new mark in the dairy cattle world.

There will be a dog show this year, to be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in which 37 breeds will compete, a casting tournament and three horse shoe tournaments.

The usual order of events will be retained—Monday being ladies' day; Tuesday, Columbus day; Thursday, Governor's day, and Saturday, Children's day. The "Million Dollar" live stock parade, which was held on Friday of last year, again will be presented at the coming exposition.

A few of the interesting entries in this year's fair are Perennial Lobelia, highest priced Jersey cow of the year; an entry of horses from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon; Percheron horses obtained in France by Sam Bell, and a herd of sheep entered by the Larkin company of Buffalo, N. Y.

WASHINGTONVILLE

A picnic was enjoyed at Kelly's park Thursday by these people: Mrs. Francis Hartley, Mrs. Louis Atkinson and children, Mrs. George King and children, Mrs. Harold Ibbotson and daughter, Mrs. Richard Wilkinson and daughter, and Mrs. William Volkart and children.

The Fortnight Sewing club spent a delightful evening Thursday at home of Mrs. Ralph Warner. The evening was spent socially and lunch was served.

Mrs. James Atkinson, Mrs. Mary Brain, Mrs. Charles Abbott and Mrs. Samuel Atkinson were among the Salem visitors Thursday evening.

Choir rehearsal will be held at the M. E. church Friday evening. Members of the Lutheran choir also are asked to be present.

John Smith, Sr., who has been seriously ill the last week, is somewhat improved.

Place of Church in Reforms
Dr. C. W. Butler, president of Cleveland Bible Institute, supplemented the annual report of the institution by explanation of the scope and function of its work.

Dr. Butler in another address outlined clearly the place of the church in relation to reforms and social service. "The first purpose of the church is the preaching of the word of God as a means of personal salvation from sin," he said. "But since the church must be on the right side of every question a secondary purpose for church activity is found in the abolition of liquor, in law enforcement and kindred movements."
A glowing tribute to the late President Harding on the unequivocal stand taken on the question of the personal use of liquor and general law enforcement was paid by Dr. Butler.

Reports Submitted
Fred Chambers, the Yearly Meeting delegate to the world's conference on alcoholism held at Toronto, Can., in November, 1922, gave an extended and interesting report.
Introductory to the Missionary program of the conference, Walter R. Williams Thursday evening gave the annual missionary address using as a theme, "Lift Up Your Eyes and Look Unto the Fields."
The reports of the Evangelistic and Pastoral board and reports of all special committees are features of the business session which will conclude at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

Damage Of $600,000
In Path Of Flood
In Colorado Valley

Pueblo, Col., Aug. 24.—Colorado's
Arkansas river valley today is recovering from the havoc wrought by flood waters of the Apishapa river Wednesday night and early Thursday.

The last ripples of the 86-foot wall of water which burst through the Apishapa irrigation reservoir dam, 35 miles south of Fowler, Wednesday, are rolling out into the lower stretches of the Arkansas river valley near Las Animas and Lamar.

Property damage is estimated at $600,000 and several hundred persons are homeless.

No loss of life has been reported.
Flood warnings were sent through the valley and hundreds fled, moving household goods and livestock with them. Most of them had returned as the waters subsided almost as suddenly as they came.

The greatest damage was done to crops, homes and railroad tracks between Fowler and Manzanola.

COUNTY SCHOOLS AND VILLAGES UP TO EYES IN DEBT

ditional revenues. Besides, it will even lower the existing tax rate, they claim. Were no re-appraisal to be permitted, the only way to increase public revenues to cope with expenditures would be to raise the tax millage arbitrarily. And most taxpayers—indeed, all taxpayers—will vociferously agree that the millage is high enough as it is.

County Not In Bad Shape

The county itself is not in bad shape, according to records in the county auditor's office. No new bond issue has been made in 10 years, and during this time a steady succession of payments has been made on outstanding indebtedness.

It is planned to submit to the voters this fall a $100,000 bond issue for a new county jail, the old one having been repeatedly condemned by state authorities as unsanitary and unfit. Should the voters approve this bond issue, the county would still owe only $85,000. Considering the payments it has made, this sum is not huge nor alarming.

But what of the townships, schools and villages within the county? According to figures compiled for the state in the auditor's office, they are "mortgaged to the hilt." They are literally steeped in debt.

The plain fact is that the majority of school districts, villages and townships in Columbiana county are so heavily in debt that most of their revenues from taxation go to pay their debts and too little is left to pay necessary operating expenses. In the opinion of County Auditor Charles Hamilton.

The money they derive from taxes might be sufficient if they had it to use, but it is chiefly spent before it enters the treasury. Naturally the call for greater revenues seems perpetual, while the taxpayers groan and wonder where it is all to end.

Few New Bond Issues

There is one sign, shown by the figures for the past fiscal year, which lends encouragement to an otherwise hopeless situation. It is that few new bond issues were made in that year. The majority of accumulated debts was amassed in previous years. As a step in the direction of public economy, this feature has its significance, although probably, observers declare, it is due chiefly to the voters own unwillingness to enmesh themselves further in debt.

Some tax authorities cling to the belief that the Taft and Albaugh taxation measures, vetoed by Gov. Don Akey and passed over his veto at the last legislative session, will help solve the dilemma which most communities in Ohio are facing. But others assert that the Taft law will not serve to increase taxes. It raises the limit and so permits cities and other districts to indulge themselves in further im providence.

However, there is even doubt that the Taft law will stand. Steps to hold a referendum on it have already been taken by realty boards of Ohio and many keen political observers, in this county as well as outside, feel certain that any measure which serves to increase taxes will have short shrift with the public.

Should it be defeated at the polls the tax situation will be the same muddle it was before.

In that event, the question of a re-appraisal of Columbiana county property looms as all the more necessary.

Taking Columbiana county's separate entities and placing them side by side for purposes of comparison, it will be seen, from the auditor's figures, that the schools have been the worst transgressors in the matter of accumulating debt. This applies both to city and rural schools. Including buildings and sites, repairs and alterations, equipment and their deficiency funds, the city schools of the county today owe $1,526,077.88.

Schools Debt Highest

On this indebtedness they paid during the last year $118,504.93, but they increased their indebtedness by $312,118, leaving as today's debt total the million and a half figure given above. On this bonded debt they are paying varying rates of interest.

The rural schools began the last fiscal year with a debt of $474,650.29. They paid off $65,610.56, leaving the debt at $409,039.73. Then they bonded themselves anew for $75,139.17, bringing their indebtedness today to $484,178.90—nearly half a million dollars in the rural communities alone.

millions of debt under which the schools of the county are groaning.

The townships—for roads, road machinery, special road assessments, etc. owed at the beginning of the fiscal year $243,028. They paid off $45,112, leaving a balance of $197,916. New bond issues, however, added $165,450, bringing the total townships' debt to $363,366.

Village Debt

In the villages the debt at the beginning of the year was $345,469. By paying $22,593.18 this was reduced to $322,875.82. However, new indebtedness for the deficiency fund and special assessments was incurred to the extent of $33,811.15, bringing today's total to $356,686.97.

Thus, in villages and townships, the year saw the aggregate debt increased rather than lessened—this despite sizable payments on interest and principal.

At the beginning of the year the county owed $855,300. A payment of $143,300 reduced this to $752,000. Since no new indebtedness was incurred, this stands today as the total bonded debt of Columbiana.

It may be remarked, in passing, that the county's debt amounts to but little more than three-fourths of a million, while the schools owe two millions and the villages, townships and townships together owe nearly two and three-quarters millions. The exact figures are $2,730,309.75.

Total Is $3,482,000

Lumped with the county's debt, the outstanding bonded indebtedness in this county amounts to $3,482,309.75. At 6 per cent a single year's interest on this sum amounts to $208,935.58.

None of these figures take into account the indebtedness of the county's incorporated cities—East Liverpool, Salem, Wellsville and East Palestine. This is because the statement submitted to the county auditor were forwarded direct to Columbus, as required by state officials, and so were not immediately available. It is safe to assume, especially in view of East Liverpool's own financial difficulties, that the legal limit has been reached in all and that the general aspects of the situation would not be materially altered by their figures.

Mrs. Horton, who formerly lived in Jacksonville, Fla., learned that her husband had married Mrs. Julia Anna Kleb in Charles town, W. Va., 25 days after their wedding and promptly caused his arrest.

THE BEAUTY OF HEALTH

Newspapers and magazines are devoting columns to magic or overnight beautifiers. There is a beauty in health that is far more attractive to men than mere regularity of features or a made-up complexion. Health should be the first essential of women who want to win and hold admiration, respect and love. At the first indication of ill health as indicated by dark circles under the eyes, a sallow complexion, headaches, backache, pain in the side, nervousness, irritability and melancholia, women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for woman's ills, which has been proven to help 95 out of every 100 women who try it.
